Key Revenue Insights

Revenue is concentrated in a few peak months, especially August and February, while several months show lower sales, indicating seasonal demand patterns.

Product Performance

Colors, Soft Toys, and Sweets are the top revenue-generating product categories, contributing a significant share of total revenue.

Occasion-wise Performance

Anniversary, Raksha Bandhan, Holi, and All Occasions generated the highest sales, highlighting the importance of seasonal gifting.

Geographic Insights

Sri Ganganagar, Bhilai, and Bidhannagar recorded relatively higher average order quantities, suggesting stronger customer demand.

Customer Behaviour

Customer purchases are highest during the morning hours and gradually decline through the day, making mornings the ideal time for promotional campaigns.

Recommendations

Increase inventory and marketing before peak occasions, improve off-season sales through targeted promotions, focus on best-selling products, optimize campaign timing, and reduce order processing time to improve customer satisfaction.

Executive Conclusion

Overall performance is healthy with strong seasonal demand. Growth opportunities exist through operational improvements, targeted regional marketing, and increasing sales during low-demand periods.
